

Coronavirus (Covid 19)

Its not about "Me"
Its about "The We".

Invisible, infectious, the battle for breath begins.
Stealing the essence of life, it's fires consume from within.

Symptomatic, Asymptomatic, all colors, all ages,
Rich man, poor man, it plunders and ravages.

In pain and in fear, in fire and in flame,
the death toll rises, as we search and we blame.

Some cite the Tumbling of Jericho, the story of Noah's ark.
While Covid patients overflow our arenas, churches and parks.

The death toll rises, our doctors, nurses, those first to respond.
All called to serve: from within, from above, and from far beyond.

The people shelter in place, social distancing asked,
flatten the curve, protect the vulnerable, wear a mask.

Its not about "Me"
Its about "The We"!

Beneath all the chaos, beyond all our borders,
stillness quietly beckons for peace and for order.

The freeways deserted, unemployment abounds,
schools are shuttered, no work or play to be found.

The air, the mountains, the oceans all clear.
While the universe seeks a balance, a cure.

Mother earth opens her heart to receive,
as all join in Oneness to heal and to grieve.

The silence sings songs of gratitude and praise,
Honoring those serving through long night and days.

Seasons cycle, the rhythm of change,
life as we know it is gone, out of range.

Just as each sunrise offers hope, new beginnings.
We acknowledge this journey of life and it's spinning.

All are a part of the Great Architect's plan.
As it always has been since time began.

Its not about Me. Its not about We.
Its all about Oneness....that's how it should be.
